DRIVER KILLED AS AUTO SKIDS ON ICY CURVE

Three Escape Without

Ray Wilson, 52, Zanesville steel worker, was killed instantly from a crushed skull when his automobile and a livestock transportable met head-on on route No. 10,
about 1.5 miles north of Marion.
It was the second fatal accident in the last two days attributed to icy roads. Steven Sunsera, 27, was killed yesterday morning when his automobile was struck in front of a passenger car.

Robert Cochran, also of Zanesville, and owner of the sedan struck by Wilson, was asleep when the accident occurred. He suffered head bruises and abrasions on his left shoulder. The car was undamaged.

Colorful Display Marks Opening of Auto Show

Five-Day Exposition of New Cars and Other Merchandise Launched at 295 West Center St.

Motorists put on their finest feathers last night to welcome a good sized crowd at the opening of the annual Marion automobile and merchandise show at 295 West Center street. The show will continue through Sunday night.
The displays have been arranged to cover both floors of the exposition building, and ample space for free round and square dancing and other entertainment has been set aside for visitors. Kenneth Fields, who is directing the show, announced today that the show
would be open afternoons and nights during the remainder of its run.
Ten dealers are exhibiting 40
1936 models in 12 makes of cars,
and 11 other dealers are showing everything from insurance policies and furniture to motor oils and auto accessories.

There was plenty of activity at the opening—something doing every minute. When the show visitors were not admiring the graceful lines of the new cars, peering inside the modern refrigerators or looking at oil and gasoline displays, they were dancing
to the music of one of Marion's favorite dance organizations, Gene Williams' orchestra, listening to the novelty numbers of London's Hawthornes, or laughing at the antics of Mickey Mouse and other cartoon characters on a sound screen provided by one of the exhibitors.

This year the auto show, which seems destined to become an annual event of the winter season,
looked on the air of a miniature exposition, with accessories and offerings of dealers and others entering elaborate displays.

Attractive Decorative Scheme
The Marion show in many ways is reminiscent of a metropolitan display. The expansive decorative scheme is in full keeping with the Christmas season, lighted evergreen trees being a feature of the first floor display. Virtually every dealer has worked out some form of decoration, many building artistic backgrounds to show off their wares.

Automobile dealers and other exhibitors were enthusiastic about the first night's success and were preparing today to accommodate a large attendance expected during the remainder of the show.

THEFT OF AUTO KEY FOILS OHIO BANK ROBBERY

Leads to Gun Battle in Which Bandit Is Killed and Marshal Wounded.

TWO FLEE WITHOUT LOOT

Commandeer Car and Kidnap
Two Women on Finding They Can't Start Own Machine.

By The Associated Press
FRANKLIN, O., Dec. 5.—A passenger stole the ignition key
from a bank robber's car today
and set the stage for a brief
pistol battle in which one robber
was killed and the town marshal wounded.

Two robbers who survived the battle kidnapped two women but a passe was reported to have quickly surrounded them a few miles from the scene of the holdup.
They were reported trapped afoot
between Red Lion and Springfield,
west of Lebanon.

The report said the men abandoned the automobile in which they fled from the scene of the holdup after the car overturned.
Though one was reported shot through the right shoulder and the other wounded in the right eye, they set off afoot in an attempt to evade capture.

Two women who carried off as hostages were unhurt, said the report, which the sheriff's office said originated with state highway patrol headquarters in Wilmington.

The slain robber, killed by Marshal William E. Graham, was parrying the $7,000 the robber trio
had taken from the Franklin
National bank shortly after noon.
All of the money was recovered
when the robber fell in front of the bank before Marshal Graham's shots.

The robbers kidnapped Mrs.
Bertha Whisman and an unidentified woman passenger in her automobile, and forced Mrs. Whisman to drive them from the scene of the holdup. The ignition key had been removed by Virgil Groves, a passerby.

Soon after the gunmen entered the bank they were fired upon by Marshal Graham and George Gates, cashier. When the shooting started the trio fled to their car.

As the robbers entered the bank they forced four employees and three customers to the back of the room and made them lie on the floor.

One of the robbers, seeing no one at the cashier's desk, jumped over the rail, forced the employees to the rear and scooped up all the cash in sight.

ren county, tentatively identified
the dead man as a New Concord,

Thinks Quick,
Gets Auto Key

By The Associated Press
FRANKLIN, O., Dec. 5.—Quick-thinking by Virgil H. Groves, an electrician, resulted in frustration of a robbery at the Franklin National bank today and the slaying of one of the three robbers.

"It was working in front of the bank pulling up Christmas decorations when two men drove up in front of their car and went in. They left the motor running," Groves related.

"I looked in and saw it was a holdup. I took the key out of their car and then started out to look for a gun. I went to four places and couldn't find one."

"While I was running down the street I met Graham (Marshal W. E.
Graham) who killed one of the robbers and we ran back to the bank."

"The two men were just coming out," Graham shot the one before he could even draw his gun. The other man dropped the money on the steps and started shooting. One of the bullets hit Graham in the ear.

"The one man ran to his car,
but jumped out when he found the key wasn't there and started running down the street. I snatched up the dead man's gun and started to chase him."

director of Franklin associates, and others contended there has been a

Soy Bean Days Launched in Auditorium Program

Cleveland Man Gives Opening Talk; Ford Company
Official Speaks Tonight; School Band To Play.

A farm crop that has been obscure in Ohio was pushed into the spotlight of public attention today
as residents of Marion and vicinity observed the first of three
"soy bean days" to mark the opening of the processing plant of the city's newest industrial concern—
Old Fort Mills, Inc.

The three-day program was off to a busy start. Visitors from Marion and nearby counties attended a program this morning in The Star auditorium and prepared to attend a second, larger meeting there tonight at 7:30.

Farmers made first entries in the $100 cash contest for soy bean exhibits. Hundreds visited The Star auditorium to see an interesting display of beans and commercial products made from them.
Others made a tour of inspection of the plant of Old Fort Mills on North Grand avenue.

The day's program was started by a meeting this morning in The Star auditorium in which R. H.
Sheppard, manager of a Cleveland paint company, gave the principal address.

Program Tonight
Dr. Elmer A. Riddiman, head of the research department of the Ford Motor Co. of Detroit, is expected to give the principal address at tonight's meeting in the auditorium. John H. Clark will act as chairman and the Harding high school band will furnish music. Dr. Riddiman's subject will deal with the growth of soy beans
and commercial products made from them.

Mr. Sheppard, in his talk this morning, told a number of interesting facts about soy beans, quoting production figures and comparing them with other farm crops on the basis of yields and financial returns.

He said 22 states were producing beans in 1933 and 1934, and that national production of this crop amounted to 11,982,000 bushels in 1933 and 21,074,000 bushels in 1934.
Ohio ranks eighth among these states, having produced 408,000 bushels in 1934. He said the estimated yield for this year is 380,000, indicating a market increase in the interest of Ohio farmers in this crop.

Do not fast two years, the average yield per acre of Ohio crops

RUNS FOR GOVERNOR

JOHN W. BRICKER

BRICKER FLINGS HIS HAT IN RING

Has United Party Behind His Drive To Wrest Governor-
ship from Davey.

ASPIRANT WELL INDORSED

Backed Unanimously by Caucus, Schorr and Other Party Leaders and Committees.

By The Associated Press
SPRINGFIELD, O., Dec. 5.—Ohio
Republicans, virtually united behind Attorney General John W.
Bricker, embarked today on the campaign they hoped would return this politically pivotal state to G. O. P. columns in next year's elections.

Bricker, an outspoken critic of Democrats Gov. Davey, announced his long expected candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, before a caucus of more than 100 G. O. P. leaders of the eleventh Ohio congressional district last night.

His hat landed in an unopposed ring. Crowded in the adjoining Democratic ring are the hats of
Gov. Davey and former Lieut. Gov.
Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, each
a critic of the other.

Well informed
Bricker carried the unanimous indorsement of the caucus, the personal indorsement of State Central Committee Chairman E. D. Schorr, and previous good wishes of numerous Republican leaders and county executive committees.

Disunion in Democratic ranks has cheered Republicans. Schorr has said "it would be perfectly logical to believe that we should profit" and predicted the state would go Republican in the national as well as state elections.

Davey has broken with U. S.
Sen. Robert J. Taft, a friend of the national administration. One of his backers, Francis W. Duerbin of Lima, has accused Sawyer of poor sportsmanship for entering the race. Davey defeated Sawyer in the 1934 primaries.

Brown Hopes To Run
The only other Republican possibility projected so far has withdrawn. It is Clarence J. Brown of Cincinnati, the party's nominee
in 1934. In his announcement, Bricker called for a "middle of the road policy" in a speech following his announcement.

"A middle of the road policy is our crying need," he said. "The national administration and the Democratic administration of Ohio are skidding from right to left, and the ditch on one side are as deep as on the other."

In his statement of announcement, he declared:
"The Republican party is marching to victory in this time. The harmony and enthusiasm here tonight is indicative of that which extends throughout the country."
Just last week former U. S. Sen.
Blanton D. Cox of Yellow Springs declared, "John Bricker is the man with whom as our standard bearer, we'll sweep the state."

Bricker, a Madison county farm boy, has been a Columbus attorney for 15 years. He is 42, married, and has one son, John.
He is a former member of the state utilities commission. He was elected attorney general in 1922—
one of three Republican candidates for state office to survive the Democratic landslide. He was re-elected in 1934. Another Democratic year, by a 42,000 majority.

PHOTOGRAPHERS CLAIM MODELS BEST DRESSED

Scoff at New York and Paris Dressmakers Who Pick 10 Best From List of Society Women.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The best dressed and most beautiful girls, says Arthur O'Neill, photographer of pithy wit, are those who get paid for being that way—the professional models.

They are probably in this "all-American eleven" of smartly attired women, O'Neill and John Robert Powers, who conduct a clearing house for the models' services, scoffed today at New York and Paris dressmakers' choices of "ten best-dressed" lists from society women.

"Society women cannot hold a candle to professional models when it comes to dress," Powers said.

"Pick the pages of any periodical," declared O'Neill, "and you'll find the best-dressed and most beautiful women in America."

"They possess beauty and clothes sense—personality and poise." Who are the girls whose photographs you see in newspaper and magazine advertisements—nonchalantly holding a cigarette, posing in foundation garments with more aplomb than many women in evening gowns?

They are probably in this "all-American eleven" of smartly attired women, O'Neill and John Robert Powers, who conduct a clearing house for the models' services, scoffed today at New York and Paris dressmakers' choices of "ten best-dressed" lists from society women.

Betty Wyman of Kansas City, who holds a cigarette as if it were an adjunct instead of a hindrance, and symbolizes the beautiful in automobile bodies.

Frances Joyce, of Scranton, Pa., a pert brunette, the sophisticated type, the perfect 11.

Janice Jarrett of San Antonio, Tex., often dubbed the "most photographed girl in America."

Frances Donelson, native New Yorker, usually pictured standing languidly against a Grecian pillar in dark evening dress.

Betty McLaughlin, another New Yorker, profile typically Grecian, always looks as if she had stepped from a bandbox.

Grace Moore, the No. 1 "undies" model, envy of most women. She comes from New Jersey.

Barbara Beckwith of Miami, Fla., whose lovely feet are so often seen in shoe advertisements. She also poses for evening and sportswear.

Josephine Shanks of New York, makes a nightgown look like an evening dress.

Kitty Barrett of Louisville, Ky., once selected as the "most aristocratic woman" in the state.

Anita Coulman, Washington, D. C., popular magazine cover girl.

O'Neill and Powers believe these girls are the best-dressed in the nation. O'Neill married two of them: First, Betty Wyman; then Frances Donelson.

Dolls and Toys Sought by Children's Party Group

Have you sent in your doll or toy for the third annual children's community Christmas party which will be held Christmas morning at the Palace theater for the less fortunate children of the city?

If not, there is yet time to help bring happiness to the hundreds of children who will be guests at the party by leaving or sending a gift or financial contribution to Chief T. J. McFarland at Central Fire station or the "toy shop" headquarters at 169 East Center street where members of the Phalanx club have established their temporary repair shop, the committee announces.

Children of the city have done their part by contributing toys at the annual benefit picture shown at the Ohio and Palace theaters and now an earnest appeal is being made to the grownups to help

by giving a doll or a toy to be placed in the Christmas stockings.

"We're not worrying about the candy and fruit to be placed in the Christmas stockings that will be supplied through the financial contributions of various organizations and individuals," Gene Hill, general chairman of the party committee said today in discussing plans for the party. "It's the big heartache that will come if there isn't a doll for every little girl and a toy for every boy who comes to the party on Christmas morning," he continued.

Clubs and other women's organizations are cooperating by providing and dressing dolls but so far, not enough have been pledged to care for the number of little girls expected to attend the party, Mr. Hill explained. Women's groups which have not as yet pledged a contribution of dolls and whose members wish to share in the party plans are asked to contact Mrs. James R. Smith, chairman of the doll committee, or call at the Central fire station or at the toy shop. Contributions also will be accepted by any one of these places and in the event they cannot be delivered a call will bring a member of the committee to the home.

If one committee is busier than another right now it is the "toy repair" committee which includes members of the Phalanx club. Assisting them are members of the H-Y group of the Y. M. C. A.

Magic Worked

The work of mending the gifts contributed at the two benefit picture shows is nearing completion, a jaunt through the aisles of toy-filled carrels reveals. To the visitor it would seem that only a magician could relaunch and repair the most of them to look anything like a Christmas gift, but there is every assurance from those in the know that when Christmas morning comes Santa Claus himself will not be able to tell them from his original stock.

There are dolls whose faces must be lifted, collars re-collared, arms and legs repaired to say nothing of a first-class bath before they can be dressed. There's a grand chassis for a truck but it needs a cab, a swell fire engine would be in A-No. 1 shape if it only had another wheel and there's a crane that could be made do all sorts of things if it only had a shovel.

There are scores of things to be fixed up, some lacking only a minor detail to be just as good as new, those master craftsmen, the Phalanx club members say. "We're keeping them handy, hoping that someone will supply the missing parts before the time is up for packing the packages for the party," the workers explain.

NOTRE DAME HONORS ROOSEVELT, SCORED

Catholic Review Cites "Deep Regret" at University Action in Conferring Degree.

By The Associated Press
BALTIMORE, Dec. 3.—The Catholic Review says in a front-page editorial in a current issue that Catholics were expressing "deep regret" at the action of the University of Notre Dame in offering an honorary degree to President Roosevelt.

Signed by Monsignor Albert E. Smith, editor-in-chief, the article said the degree was extended "for no other reason" than "the gratitude for the independence of the Philippine Islands, a Catholic country."

Monsignor Smith wrote there was "not the slightest reason" to interpret the conferring of the degree "as an endorsement by the University of Notre Dame of the President's policy in respect to Mexico."

The President accepted Notre Dame's offer of an honorary degree of doctor of laws, to be conferred Dec. 9.

The Review, official organ of the archdiocese of Baltimore, said that "on all sides deep regret is being expressed" by Catholics here at the university's action. Those who felt this were characterized as among "Notre Dame's friends."

"The regrets being expressed in the archdiocese of Baltimore have their counterparts in all parts of the United States," the Review said. "The authorities of the University of Notre Dame realize the situation and understand the regrets."

Monsignor Smith is pastor of St. Mary, Star of the Sea church, in Baltimore. He formerly was vice president of the Catholic Press association of the United States and is well known in Catholic journalistic circles.

"The Doctor was RIGHT!"

Women should take only liquid laxatives

THREE STEPS TO RELIEVING CONSTIPATION

I. Moving and relaxing dose of liquid laxative, restoring the normal to the system, stimulating and individual need.

II. Takecare, take care! Let the regular in regular doses of liquid laxative be part of the work.

III. Use less each time until bowels regular on all at all.

aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid dose can be regulated to the drop.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. It's the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried. You'll never go back to fixed doses of strong cathartics that act with such violence.

Ask your doctor. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. Or get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if it doesn't give you absolute relief, if it isn't a joy and comfort in the way it overcomes any sluggishness or biliousness due to constipation, return it and get your money back.

Try Syrup Pepsin! Just take regulated doses until Nature has restored regularity.

Do what doctors do to relieve such a condition. They use liquid laxatives, such as keep reducing the dose until the bowels need no help at all.

Reduced dosage is the secret of

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN

PENDING DIVORCE BANS GABLE FROM BLUE BOOK

Actor Drops Name but Refuses To Give Cause; Marital Woes Accepted Reason.

By The Associated Press.
HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 5.—Gable's first wife, Josephine Dillon Gable, is in as before. She teaches dramatics here.

The register always has nearly overlooked the motion picture colony.

Neither Charlie Chaplin nor Mary Pickford, who move in top-ranking circles abroad and frequently entertain royalty in their homes here, are listed.

"It is generally considered," Mrs. Berry said, "that most picture people lack the family connections to make them eligible for the Blue Book. Nor are their own accomplishments such as to give them reason for including them."

She said the very fact that "appear as public entertainers" acts against them in this respect and added that the new register contains fewer film names than ever.

The only motion picture people included besides the first Mrs. Gable are Cecil B. DeMille, director-producer, and his family; Reine Davis, sister of Marion Davis, and Ben Myers, director, and his family.

GRANGE SHOWER HONORS COUPLE

Event in Feature of Meeting at Shrock School.

A shower complimenting Mr. and Mrs. John Cressap who were recently married was a social feature of a meeting of the Progressive Grange, Tuesday night at the Shrock school building. The occasion also announced the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cressap which was solemnized Nov. 8 at Greenup, Ky. Mrs. Cressap was formerly Miss Alma Clegg. Mrs. Cressap before her marriage was Miss Mary Storer.

Two candidates were balloted on and a contribution made to the Kelley memorial fund during a business session. A program included two vocal duets by Mrs. Homer Moeck and Miss Ethel Mack, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Francis Fairchild, a piano solo by Mrs. Fairchild, and a reading by Miss Mary Alice McAfee.

The shower gifts were arrayed on a table in the center of the stage, which was decorated in royal blue and silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Cressap were escorted to the stage by Norma Jean Long, costumed in white and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. A short talk was given by LaRov Epley. Refreshments were served, carrying out a color note of silver and blue. During the evening Mr. Cressap and Mr. Cressap provided a treat for the members and guests.

A Christmas exchange and program and a shower for Mr. and Mrs. Cressap will feature the next meeting Dec. 17.

JOBLESS ROLLS DROP SLOWLY

Increase in Employment Lags After Initial Spurt Two Years Ago.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Unemployment estimates widely used in government departments indicate that progress in cutting down the jobless rolls has been comparatively slow during the past two years, after a sensational spurt early in the administration.

The figures, assembled originally for President Roosevelt's committee on economic security, estimate that unemployment decreased almost 4,000,000 during the first seven months of the new deal, but changed little in the subsequent two years.

Despite their use by government agencies the figures have been closely guarded since they were assembled by the security committee's consultant, Robert R. Nathan.

Peak at 15,671,000.

They place the peak of unemployment at 15,671,000 in March, 1933, and estimate that by October, 1933, it had fallen to 11,176,000. Since then the figures show sharp fluctuations, with a net decrease of 361,000 from October, 1933, to September, 1935.

September's total of 10,913,000 was higher than the new deal low of 10,743,000 in June, 1934. Although the final figure for October has not been determined, preliminary calculations indicate it will be materially less than the September total.

Nathan assembled the figures through March, 1935, for the economic security committee. Since then he has made the computations unofficially. His estimates include totals not only of the unemployed but of the employed.

More Working in September.

Although they show more unemployed in September of this year than in June of last year, they also indicate more people were at work in September. This surface discrepancy is explained by an estimate that the employable population increased 450,000 between the two months.

For the seven-year period from January, 1929, Nathan estimates a total increase in the employable population of almost 2,000,000 persons, and concludes this may be low. He places unemployment in January, 1929, at 2,631,000. On that basis the nation would have to find about 4,500,000 more jobs than existed in January, 1929, to wipe out joblessness.

PUPILS ON NYA TO RECEIVE PAY CHECKS

October Disbursement To Be Made from Columbus Office.

First national youth administration payroll checks for Marion city and county were mailed this week from the office of William S. Guthrie of Columbus, supervisor of the Ohio student aid program, according to an announcement from the office of D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools.

More than $200, representing the October payroll, was to be distributed to 31 city and county pupils. The aid given by the administration is offered only to pupils from relief families and the Marion county quota has already been filled, officials said.

The amount to be distributed by the administration for work in November totals $436.95, according to Carl L. Lister, supervisor of the county payroll. Checks for the November work are to be mailed later this month.

Of the 31 pupils who received aid for the October period, 42 were in city schools and nine in county schools. Sixty-six of the 88 pupils who are to receive checks for work in November are enrolled in city schools and 22 in county schools.

The pupils on the administration payroll are permitted to work a maximum of 10 hours each week and receive pay at the rate of 16 cents an hour. Their tasks include clerical and stenographic work and assistance to instructors in grading papers.

Pupils included in the November payroll are from the following city schools, Harding High, Edison Junior High, St. Mary's parochial and county schools, Waldo, Prospect, Morral, Meeker, Caledonia and Agosta.

WATERS CITES OHIO TAX BILL

More Than Four Hundred Millions Collected Annually in State, Survey Shows.

More than $400,000,000 in state and local taxes are collected annually in Ohio, exclusive of federal taxes which are estimated to cost the state in the neighborhood of $100,000,000 every year, J. H. Waters, chairman of the Marion county committee of the inter-organization conference on the Ohio tax situation, asserted today as his committee and others throughout the state continued their efforts to prevent the enactment of any new state taxes in 1938.

When the public realizes the large amount of taxes paid in this state annually, they will welcome a speeding off process that at least will preclude additional state taxes," Mr. Waters said.

He pointed to the disposition on the part of the Ohio electorate to carefully examine the expenditure of public funds as disclosed by the voters' attitude on bond issues at the recent election as evidence of the average citizen's interest in the reduction and said the first step in tax reduction must be leveling off of tax spending.

Speaker of the study of the state's financial outlook for 1938 made for the inter-organization conference, Mr. Waters said, "Our survey, coming from men, many of whom are qualified to judge the state's financial position from a purely non-partisan standpoint, indicates that new state taxes are needed for 1938."

He said the survey made the solution of Ohio's tax problem a simple matter for the general assembly in that it would be necessary only to renege the sales tax, the liquor tax, the three per cent. tax on the sale of the one per cent. temporary additional tax on productive investments, all existing Dec. 31, and the cigarette tax to expire Oct. 31, 1936.

Taxes now in force, if reenacted without any additions, would be sufficient for old age pensions, poor relief, schools, highways, including allotments to municipalities and other subdivisions, he said.

Mr. Waters asserted that the obligations of the state for 1938 which are not now entirely provided for would be approximately $95,000,000 against anticipated net revenue of $101,870,000 to be provided through reenactment of existing state tax laws.

CONVICT RECAPTURED AFTER BREAK

A desperate attempt to escape from the Massachusetts state prison in Boston ended in failure for a group of long-term prisoners, one of whom was slain in a battle with prison guards.

Frank Joyce, 21-year-old convict, was one of those recaptured. He is shown being led back to his cell. A civilian employee at the prison also lost his life. (Associated Press Photo)

30 DAYS ON VENDOL ENDS THIS MAN'S SUFFERING

Is now free of indigestion, gas in the stomach, sourness, dizzy feeling and he sleeps soundly all night since correcting weak kidneys.

Mr. Otis K. Radford, residing at 830 McKinley Ave., S. W., Canton, recently said:

"Most everything I ate would turn gas and acid in my stomach and make me feel miserable for hours afterwards. This distress prevented me from sleeping at night, cut down my appetite and as the food did me no good I lost strength and vigor steadily. I was also troubled with weak kidneys. I called me up several times and every morning when I woke up I felt tired and listless and had a stale, bitter taste in my mouth. I was quite discouraged for I could find no medicine that really helped me.

"Vendol is the only medicine that has ever reached the root of my stomach trouble. Now I am able to eat and enjoy my meals without any fear of distress afterwards. Vendol has also corrected the kidney trouble and I wake up in the

PLEA FOR BIRDS

Editor of The Star:

In answer to an article in The Star a few days ago I ask this question: Why feed birds to keep them alive for air rifle targets?

I myself am a lover of birds and for many years have fed them in winter and given them water in the summer, but it grieves me to see the poor, helpless things shot by boys just for the thrill.

God put them here for the purpose of saving our gardens and grain fields from insects and if they are killed, famine will result. For the good they do and the very little they destroy I am pleading, please save the birds, for they belong to God.

Steaks and Chops Seen As Yuletide Dinner Favorites

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Steaks and chops will be real rivals of the traditional turkey as the festive morsel of this year's Christmas dinner.

The best beef, pork and lamb in several years will flood the market during the holidays, the American Institute of Meat Packers reported today.

The institute had still better news for the family Santa Claus who foots the bills: Prices will be down.

Several reasons were advanced for the improved meat quality. First, cattle and hogs of the last few years showed the effects of severe drought. This summer the weather was kinder and stock fatter.

Second, December coincides with the biggest livestock exposition, the International Livestock show in Chicago. For months livestock producers have prepared cattle, calves, sheep and hogs for exhibition.

Many of the prize winners will be sold, and many more head of stock whence the prize contenders were picked will be marketed.

The juicy steaks and roasts will continue to appear on dinner tables through the holidays and into the early months of 1938.

The east will consume more of this "top flight" meat output than the other half of the country, for although two-thirds of the nation's livestock is raised west of the Mississippi, two-thirds of the meat is consumed east of that river.

The price trend is as welcome a Christmas gift as the choice meat. The drop in the wholesale price index first observed in November has been passed on to retail sales, and was holding, the packers said.

Of 20 meat cuts, 12 showed declines from two to nine per cent. with beef leading. Only one cut, leg of lamb, showed an increase.

PROFITABLE HUNT

Patrolman Bags Fox and Solves Christmas Problem.

The problem of what to give his wife for Christmas has already been solved by Bert Yokam, Marion policeman. She will get a fur neckpiece direct from a red fox neckpiece Yokam shot while hunting Monday, his "day off." He bagged the fox, the first reported in this district this season, four miles northeast of Meeker.

He's going to have the pelt made into a neckpiece for Mrs. Yokam, the patrolman said. He also bagged five rabbits. "I've always been a pretty fair shot," was the explanation he gave for his luck.

CLUB HEARS TALK BY RICHARD FRANCIS

Richard Francis, who returned to Marion recently from Washington, D. C., addressed the Olympian Torch-Y club last night in a meeting at the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Francis' topic was "Today is Interesting," taken from material he has prepared for a series of radio broadcasts. He covered little known facts in the lives of such colorful personalities as "Diamond Jim" Brady, Carle Nation, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Dr. Mudd.

Mr. Francis brought out an interesting point in connection with Dr. Mudd, who was the physician who attended Edwin Booth's broken leg after the actor shot President Lincoln and jumped to the stage of Ford's theater in Washington. Dr. Mudd, who had no connection with the assassination, was imprisoned as a result of the medical services he gave Booth—hence the expression, "your name will be mud."

Mr. Francis has been broadcasting over a Washington radio station and plans to return to the east in the near future.
